June 16, 2011 Afternoon

Dear Members, Friends and Vendors:

At this time the river levels appear to have stabilized for the moment. The plant is operating at full rates, and we have full logistics capabilities for rail and truck access. The rail road canceled their embargo and this eased some of the challenges we were seeing with routing rail cars.

At the plant we have completed sandbagging and berm building around critical structures; including sections of the steam line, the natural gas station east across I-29, the low areas of the rail loop and the water treatment area. All of our staff have stepped up and worked to make sure we are prepared.

We ask you to keep all the individuals and families already affected by this flood in your prayers and thoughts. Some of our staff have been impacted, as have their family and friends.

We will provide additional updates as things change.

Sincerely,
Brian Cahill, CEO
